Nida Khan

Digital Marketing | Google ADs | SEO |Wordpress
Mumbai, Maharashtra, India

Summary

I'm Nida Khan, a certified Digital Marketer trained by DGmark Institute, passionate about helping brands strengthen their online presence through creative and strategic digital solutions. During my certification, I gained hands-on experience in SEO, social media marketing, content creation, Google Ads, and email marketing—building a solid foundation to begin my professional journey.

What inspires me about digital marketing is its constant evolution and the opportunity to combine creativity with data-driven decision-making. I enjoy exploring new trends, understanding audience behavior, and creating content that engages, informs, and delivers results.

As I start my career, I'm seeking opportunities where I can apply my skills, learn from real-world projects, and contribute to meaningful digital growth. If you're looking for a motivated and dedicated beginner in digital marketing, I'd love to connect and explore possibilities
